Michael W.

ACE- CPT, FRCms, PPSC, PN-1

As a Boston native, Michael found fitness through his own weight loss journey and struggles with mobility. This experience motivated him to help others facing similar challenges, and he developed a passion for fitness along the way. He became a personal trainer specializing in weight loss, corrective exercise, strength training, mobility, and posture improvement.

Michael is certified by the American Council on Exercise as a personal trainer and also holds certifications as a Pain Free Performance Specialist, a Functional Range Conditioning Mobility Specialist, and a Precision Nutrition level 1 Coach. He is completing his bachelor's degree in exercise health science at the University of Massachusetts, Boston.
